(old) will meet with Macron on Wednesday in Versailles For years, the French government has pursued a "tough and strong" France policy, but the country's government is losing power in Europe and has begun to sacrifice moral values and the sanctity of the nation for economic gain. France is experiencing a "slow" but "terrible" immigration crisis because of Europe, while mainland Europe is suffering from "slow" but "terrible" inflation, said French Finance Minister Bruno Le Maire in an interview with the Associated Press. China's "aggressive actions" in the South China Sea could cause "big damage" to the global economy, U.S. Defense Secretary Jim Mattis warned. * Australia upped the ante, saying it has a "very real" threat against the U.S. for its involvement in the South China Sea dispute. It's not clear how Australia plans to respond or if China will be invited to respond. Wealthy Chinese investors could dump their shares as the trade spat between Washington and Beijing turns more negative. If it all goes in the wrong direction for one of the two sides, it could tip the global economy into a recession and exacerbate an already fragile situation. The International Monetary Fund urged China and the U.S. to ease tensions in a bid to avoid a global trade war. "If the U.S. pushes ahead with its trade wars, I fear it will threaten the global economy, and if China pushes ahead with its protectionism, I fear it will threaten the global economy," he said. But some countries are trying to put a floor beneath the yuan's weak currency to staunch U.S. financial support. South Africa's parliament has voted to downgrade diplomatic ties with Israel, ending their two-decade-long alliance. The Senate voted 52 to 44 on Wednesday to cut relations with Tel Aviv but stop short of excluding the Jewish state from any future trade deal. Saudi
